MEMORIAL SERVICE OF MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

Held at Broadway Congregational Church With Several Taking Part.

There was a union meeting of the Boston and Foreign Missionary societies at Broadway Congregational church Friday afternoon for a memorial service for Mrs. George Greenman and Miss Mary Huntington. Rev. E. S. Worcester presided and there was a solo, Crossing the Bar, by Mrs. Charles Tyler and several hymns were sung.

Those who spoke were Rev. E. S. Worcester, Mrs. K. K. Leavens, Mrs. Lowell Pratt, Mrs. Louise Pratt, Mrs. S. H. Howe and Dr. Pratt. Letters from those who had known Miss Huntington before she came here were read by Mrs. Orla Dodge and Mrs. F. W. Lester.

Reference was made to the part both had taken in church work and in the church and religious organizations to which they belonged, and their lives were characterized by Dr. Pratt as beautiful, each doing her work quietly but conscientiously and completely.

Mrs. Marchant Gets Divorce.

In the superior court at Hartford Friday Mrs. Fidelia F. March of Hartford wanted a divorce from her husband, Frank A. March, who is now living in Norwich. They were married in 1876. For husband left in 1903, she said, after a long series of impenetrable spells, in which he made trouble for her. He did not support her and her endeavours to take care of herself by taking boarders were seriously hampered by his conduct. The divorce was granted.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT AT SLATER HALL

Delighted Large Audience—Pupils of Academy Sang in Praiseworthy Manner.

A large and fashionable audience filled Slater hall Friday evening and listened with great delight to the clever concert given by the combined glee clubs of the boys and girls of the Norwich Free Academy and manifested its approval by applauding each number to two cheers.

The clubs were under the direction of members of the faculty, Merwyn L. Latham having charge of the boys' club, while Miss Spaulding led the organization of the girls.

The patient and careful efforts of the instructors came out in the success of their pupils and desire was expressed for a repetition of the successful concert.

The programme follows: Victory, Waiter, boys' glee club; The Bubble, double quartet; Santa Lucia, girls' glee club; Sitting 'Round the Old Camp Fire, Susie, boys' glee club; The Goodbye Song, Musical, E. J. Smith, musical club; A Wanderer's Evening Song, Rubenstein, girls' glee club; A Surgical Triumph, White, Walking Down the Street, The Fibers.

The Glee club, Robert Schuman, girls' glee club; The Sunset Glow, boys' glee club; Looking Backward, Medley, The Fibers; Dry 'Yo' Eyes, Sigmund Landberg; The Crawfish Sale, ar. by Emily Coolidge, girls' glee club; Jolie Fleur d'Amour, Christine, musical club; 1911 class song, Alice Hunsweil, boys' glee club; The Red and the Blue, boys' glee club.

Of the above programme especially worthy of mention are the Fibers, who are composed of eight members of the boys' club. They sang their catchy numbers with much originality and humor. Their performance here and there gained a number of well deserved encores for them.
